Beverly Hills June 14, 2008 - Reality television's elite stars and their canine companions joined together on Saturday, June 14th to celebrate "Reality Cares' Dogs Next Door" an event benefiting the non profit organization, Dogs In Danger. Dogs In Danger is an animal welfare organization, which was recently featured on 'Oprah!' for their work in raising awareness of the number of dogs being killed in shelters and helping to save their lives through pet adoption. The afternoon event was held at Michael Scott's lush and beautifully appointed Beverly Park estate. It was apparent from the very first greeting that this was not just another fundraiser, but a fun opportunity to raise money for a cause very close to the hearts of the stars.

DogsInDanger.com was launched in October 2007 with the goal of getting as many shelter dogs adopted into loving homes as possible, before their time runs out; and raising awareness of the number of dogs being killed in shelters. DogsInDanger.com believes in the power of compassion, and that Americans would do more to help and adopt shelter dogs, if only they knew how many dogs shelters were forced to euthanize. Simply put, we have chosen a path of technology as a means of connecting these scared, abandoned shelter dogs with the loving homes they deserve. As a nonprofit organization, we seek no other gain except for the happiness we see in the face of a dog as he faithfully walks out through the shelter doors, in perfect step with his loving new family.
